The response to the election requirement is incomplete because the response failed to identify the claims that read on the elected species. Although in the elected species of Jeffamine ED2003, Z is (PO)-(EO)-(PO) and X is NH₂, the response failed to name specific Z and X. In response to this communication, applicants are respectfully requested to comply with the election requirement by naming the claims that read on the elected species and name the specific X and Z that meet the structural limitations of the elected species.
